Elementary Writing Design Lab

June 20 - 23, 2023
9:00 am - 12:00 pm
K - 5th Grade Teachers
Registration Fees: $275.00

In elementary classrooms, writing can and should be happening in many spaces - in play-based centers and across all subjects. Writing is not just linguistic practice but also a social practice. So how might we engage students in many different kinds of writing and sharing opportunities? How do we learn about our students through their writing, and how might we assess writing differently?

Elementary Writing Design Lab participants will engage in writing for themselves and reflect on their own teacher writer identities. They will experience workshops on writing in elementary school settings and discuss how to build writing into the learning environment. Participants will walk away with some lessons and practices for building a community of writers that they can try out in the first six weeks of instruction.

Secondary Writing Design Lab

June 12 - 16, 2023
9:00 am - 12:00 pm
6th - 12th Grade Teachers
Registration Fees: $300.00

In the Secondary Writing Design Lab, participants will workshop practices in the teaching of writing through demonstration lessons, explore issues of equity and teacher identity, and write as a means of expressing ideas and experiencing what we ask of students. In the summer, the weeklong program will involve working closely with experienced BAWP teacher consultants, sharing learnings, and engaging in a range of writing practices - as part of a small cohort of teachers.
